Highlight of Freshmen Year To Be 'A Night at a Mardi Gras'

Tomorrow evening is that "for freshmen only" event—the Freshman Class Sports Party.

The freshmen officers, Phil Burns, president; Sue Beckington, vice-president; Nancy Shepherd, treasurer; and Barb Girling, secretary, have chosen "A Night at a Mardi Gras" as the theme for this year's party.

Decorations will be the main factor in conveying the Mardi Gras mood. Streamers, "balloons galore," Mardi Gras masks, and a "special surprise" are all planned as part of the decorations.

The party, which lasts from 7:00–10:00 p.m., will be divided into an hour and a half each of sports activity and dancing. Both gyms will be utilized in the course of the evening.

The north-south gym will house the trampolines and badminton nets, while volleyball and basketball will be the scene in the east-west gym. Dancing to the latest records is planned for the party.

last half in the north-south gym.

Throughout the evening, doughnuts and coke will be available as refreshments to the party-goers at a nominal cost.

Tickets have been sold in the freshmen homerooms the latter part of this week for 50 cents per person. There will be tickets available at the door tomorrow evening. Students bringing out-of-school guests are reminded to sign the guest register in the student office. Appropriate clothing which includes mudas, or skirts for the girls. Helping the class officers co-ordinate plans for the party have been the class sponsors, Miss Nellie Busey and Mr. Robert Soltis.

All proceeds from the sports party will go into a fund which will be used for the class of '67's future events throughout the next three years.

Each of the class officers echoed their agreement when Barb stated that she hoped many freshmen would attend the party and make it a "huge" success.

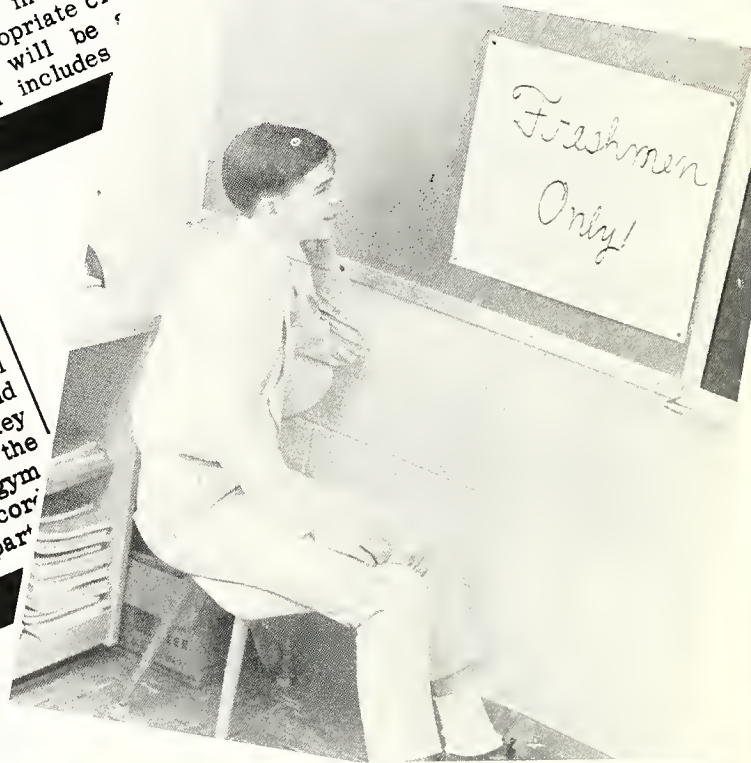

Mardi Gras'

"A Night at a Mardi Gras" will be the special event all freshmen may anticipate on March 14 at the Freshman Class Party.

The sports party, to be held from 7–10 p.m. in the north-south and east-west gyms, will feature a variety of activities for all participants. Volleyball, ping-pong, basketball or badminton are among the sports offered.

The trampolines will be available in the north-south gym. Dancing to the latest popular records will be their attraction.

Students are encouraged to wear colorful sports clothing—mudas, slacks, or skirts.

Dancing, badminton, basketball, and volleyball highlighted the Freshman Party, "A Night at a Mardi Gras," March 14, 1964. Conveying the colorful mood were balloons, masks, and streamers while doughnuts and Cokes kept the party-goers amply supplied.

Chosen as the theme for Guilford's first Senior Prom on May 23, 1964 was "MANAO." Seniors danced to the music of Bill Engberg's Orchestra before enjoying a pre-dawn breakfast and swimming party at Forest Hills Country Club.

JUNIOR PROM

"Misty" was the name chosen by the class of 1965 for their Junior Prom, November 16, 1963. Bill Engberg's Orchestra provided music for prom-goers.

FIREBALL

Climaxing Christmas festivities was Guilford's second annual "Fireball," January 4, 1964. Reigning over a court of four senior girls was "R" Club nominee Tina Brogren. Folk singers highlighted the dance following the huge bonfire of Christmas trees.

MEDITERRANEAN HOLIDAY

Flowers and ferns, a spot-lighted fountain, fish nets and shell decorations accented the "R" Club dance, "Mediterranean Holiday," March 7, 1964.

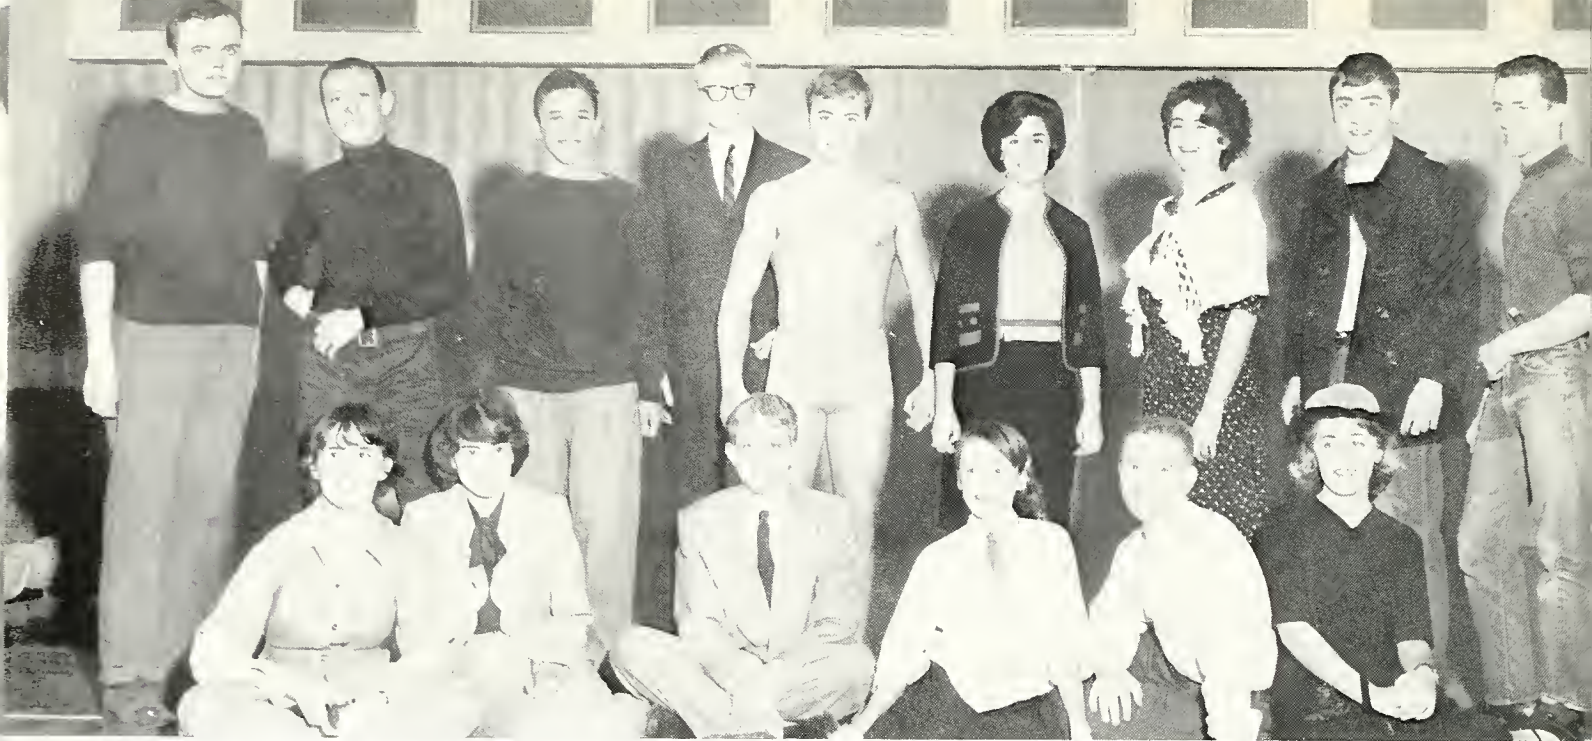

Members and their dates danced to the music of the Nat Galfono band. Decorated tables and chairs were supplied for couples to enjoy punch, nuts, and mints.

Cheering, clapping, and singing echoed from the Vikings' gym throughout the sports year. Fans experienced the glory of victory, the bitter-sweet of defeat, and the confidence of a team having done their best in all games.

Heading the Senior Class were the ten boys and ten girls who maintained the highest grade point averages throughout their sophomore, junior, and senior years. These twenty students were named to the "Top Ten" shortly after the beginning of second semester. They were among the scholastic leaders honored at an April tea sponsored by Student Council.

Four senior boys achieved outstanding scores on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring in high schools across the nation. Their scores enabled them to be named national semi-finalists. A second round of testing, high school records, and extra-curricular activities will be taken into consideration before the ultimate four-year scholarship awards are made.

Test Scores Yield Scholarship Finalists

Semi-finalists for Illinois State Scholarships are selected on the basis of composite scores on the ACT tests and class rank. Notified of their eligibility early in the second semester were 23 Guilford seniors. Each qualified student is in competition with other seniors throughout the state for possible monetary or honorary awards. Monetary scholarships are awarded only to qualified students who will attend state approved colleges or universities.

Upperclassmen Recognized in Varied Fields

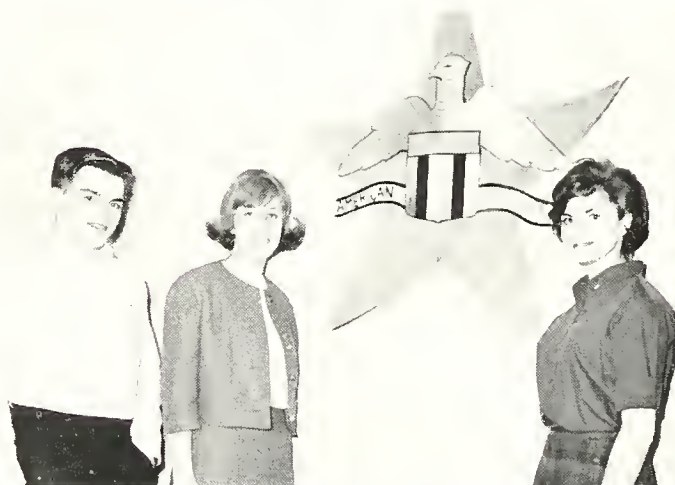

Mary Johnson, recipient of the Betty Crocker award demonstrates the importance of study for successful homemaking.

Guilford's first candidates for the AFS program abroad were selected from a field of 17 juniors and seniors through interviews conducted by a committee composed of student leaders, members of the faculty, administrators, and adult officers of the local American Field Service Society. The three final candidates submitted various forms to the national headquarters in New York City where the final eliminations were made. None of the Guilford candidates were selected as finalists on the national level.

The juniors were competing for a summer's stay abroad while the one senior was in competition for a year's study in a foreign country.

After administering a comprehensive test covering all phases of homemaking to interested students, each high school selects one senior girl to receive the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award. A heart-shaped pin is awarded to each school winner who, on the basis of her score, may be eligible to win a $1500 scholarship in national competition.

Standing in front of the AFS emblem are Don Pogue, Peggy Cicero, and Vickie Snoy, the three Guilford finalists.

Recognized for her outstanding citizenship is the DAR recipient. A senior girl from each high school is chosen for this honor by the Rockford chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The representatives selected from the various high schools are entered in a state-wide competition.

Six Guilford students were honored at a Women's Club luncheon on March 24. Each year the club sponsors a literary contest open to the four Rockford high schools. Winners in the prose division were Cynthia Morris, first place; Mary Myers, second place; and Lynn Tandvig, third place. In the poetry division Suzanne Nicholas placed first, Julie Holmquist, second, and Kathy Hunt, third. Besides attending the luncheon the girls received monetary awards for their literary contributions.

Students Place in Literary Contests

Attending the Fourth Annual Literary Conference for high school students sponsored by Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, were four senior girls. Receiving first place honors in the poetry division of the November 15 conference was Wendy Skinner. Her entry "Cerfs-valontes" received comments and suggestions from the judges in the seminar phase of the program. The four girls who attended the workshop were selected on the basis of creative works submitted in their English classes.

Applicants for the Illinois Heart Association's monetary grant for a two months' summer study at the University of Illinois were judged on the basis of their personal qualifications and an essay stating the benefits derived from this educational program. Only one applicant per school was allowed to enter the regional competition. They were screened by the regional board, and the finalists from this stage advanced to the state level. Fifty-two students were selected to receive these research grants.

Dave Felten, Guilford's representative to the summer research program, pauses outside the library.

Music, Science Achievements Acknowledged

John McCarragher and Jim Magnuson take a moment out before leaving the All-State Music Festival.

Guilford's two participants in the All-State Music Festival were screened from a field of 3600 high school students at six district conventions. From these musicians, most of whom were outstanding seniors in their particular fields, 200 were chosen for chorus activities and 125 were chosen for band and orchestra participation.

The festival was held in Peoria during the last week-end of January.

Selected to represent orchestra but unable to attend the convention was Steve Stark.

Quill and Scroll Initiates 21 Members

Twenty-one seniors were initiated into Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists, at the Publications Recognition Banquet on May 2. These students, having assumed the responsibilities of senior publications members for two years, made outstanding contributions to their respective staffs --business, newspaper, or yearbook. Each of the seniors gained membership in the organization through the recommendation and approval of three sections: the Publications advisor, his journalism colleagues, and a faculty screening committee.

Quill and Scroll seeks to reward superior individual journalistic effort. Other functions of the society include the rating of all member student newspapers and the publishing of a magazine which provides practical information and new ideas for every phase of journalism.

Graduates Hear NU President, Top Students

Dr. J. Roscoe Miller
President of Northwestern University

Presenting his first high school commencement address in 25 years, Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, President of Northwestern University, spoke to Guilford's first graduates at the June 4 exercises. In accepting the school's invitation to act as commencement speaker, Dr. Miller declined the $125 speaker's fee allocated by the Board of Education and asked that the money "be turned over to the class for a project which in some way might commemorate the first graduates."

Dr. Miller was born in Murray, Utah, in 1905. He graduated from the University of Utah with an AB in 1925 and went on to earn his MD and his MS from Northwestern University. Honorary degrees have been awarded to him by various Mid-Western colleges and universities. Dr. Miller has served Northwestern in several capacities since 1941. He was associated with the university's medical school before becoming President of Northwestern in 1949.

Married in 1928 and the father of three children, Dr. Miller now resides in Evanston with his wife.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison

1917

1964

When death strikes its sombering effects are far-reaching. So was it with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, Guilford mathematics teacher. Both the faculty and Mrs. Harrison's students were saddened by her untimely passing due to a stroke on October 28. New to Guilford this year, Mrs. Harrison devoted her life to teaching. Prior to joining the Guilford faculty she taught at Belvidere High School, Gustavus Adolphus College, and a high school in Vancouver, Washington. Mrs. Harrison is survived by her husband Joseph and her daughter Sally, a Guilford student.

The student's life is rich and varied, challenging both the mind and the body. Throughout the day questions are answered, challenges are met, and new realms are explored, those of . . .

Through hard work and effort the Band finally reached its goal this year. Proceeds from the Band Carnival in which many school organizations participated and an auction early in the fall boosted the Band well over its 10,000 dollar goal for uniforms. A large donation encouraged this year's effort.

The Band director and a special committee spent much time selecting the uniforms, which were first worn at a pops concert in February.

Band members experiment with new upright bases.

Orchestra Performs at Community Functions

Eaye Arvidson, concert mistress, tunes her violin before the beginning of orchestra class.

To present a uniform appearance at public performances, orchestra created their own attire. The boys complied by wearing dark dress suits or sport coats. The girls made their light blue A-line dresses from identical patterns.

The musical group performed at the school Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, a Marsh School program, the Spring Concert, and Baccalaureate.

Barbershop Harmony Is Norsemen Specialty

BOYS' QUARTET—J. Magnuson, P. Mosher, T. Donovan, R. Burton.

The Norsemen, better known as the boys' quartet, made their debut at the dedication of our new building in September and later performed at the Christmas concert at Temple Baptist Church.

Their practices were held before and after school. The quartet elected to sing an informal style of music and some barber shop harmony.

Auditions Used To Select Madrigal Singers

Selected on the basis of their performance in auditions, the Madrigal singers met Thursday morning each week to learn and perfect numbers which were ideally suited to a madrigal group through lyrics and composition. Eighteen upperclassmen took part in this musical group.

Performances were given for various PTA groups, for the AAUW, and for church social gatherings.

A Cappella Concert Choir Acquires Robes

Inspecting robe samples are Steve Nelson, Faith Wendt, and Martha Rosenbloom.

Choosing monogrammed robes and obtaining funds for them were A Cappella Choir's main projects during the first semester. Money was earned by selling doughnuts and candy, working in the concession stand at home football games, and providing refreshments for Parents' Night.

"Where's Charlie?" this year's operetta, and the Spring Music Festival occupied much of the group's time second semester, but there was always time for out of school engagements. The finale of the busy agenda were the performances at baccalaureate and commencement.

Members of Girls' Chorus practice their routine performed in the Christmas concert.

The Girls' Chorus is an elective for freshman and sophomore girls. It is considered to be the training prerequisite for the A Cappella audition. Voice production is especially stressed in the chorus.

The Girls' Chorus, assisted by a student piano accompanist, performed at the Christmas assembly, the Spring Festival, and the Spring Choral Concert.

Mixed Glee Open to Music Enthusiasts

Mixed Glee, a choral group of approximately 70 members, was open to all students interested in music and voice culture. The chorus had a predominance of boys, quite unusual for any high school choir.

Mixed Glee participated in the Christmas program, the Spring Concert, and the Spring Music Festival. A few selected members had parts in the operetta "Where's Charley?"

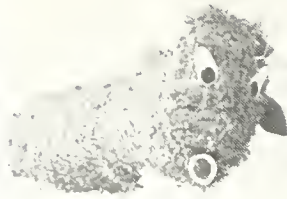

Scanning new music selections are Barb Ballard, Bill Wales, and Terry Stobart.

All students taking Spanish or having completed one year of the language were eligible to take part in the club activities such as the breaking of the pinata at Christmas.

The climax of the year was a Spanish fiesta, which included Spanish food and songs.

A traditional Russian folk dance entertains "Volga Boatmen".

Bourlaki Volgi, a new 17-member club, met once a month for fun in the spirit of old Russia. The group all given Russian names, sang old folk songs like "Kalinka" and "Metelnitsa," learned traditional dances, and saw movies concerning the Soviet Union.

A visit to a Russian Orthodox church and a Russian banquet with "caviar" climaxed the year.

Fred Arvidson, Kathy McCarthy, and Suzanne Nicholas present a dialogue on Paris.

Le Cercle Francais met twice each month to explore the French culture and language. Slides and films of France, dialogues, songs, and skits were utilized for this purpose.

In the French tradition a "reveillon" was held at Christmas, and a king and queen were selected by dimes found in their "galette", a type of French holiday pastry.

Along with the annual trip to an art museum, a banquet conducted completely in French with guests from Beloit Catholic High School was the major event of the spring program.

In keeping with its Roman emphasis, Latin Club sponsored a Saturnalia party in December and a Roman banquet early in April. Participants enjoyed the atmosphere created by Roman costumes and Latin cuisine.

Members of Latini Hodierni are aided in their study of classical subjects and made more aware of the interesting aspects of Latin as a language through the organization.

Planning the annual Latin banquet are Bob Cochran, Carol Johnson, Margaret Palm, and Charles Gullickson.

Members of Communication Arts Club acted in front of audiences and behind the scenes to present the Rockford community with unique productions from Guilford's theater "in the round."

Exploring realms outside the theater, the club entertained speakers from both radio and television stations. At the invitation of the speakers, the group also toured area communication stations. A play, the proceeds of which were to go towards scholarships to summer institutes in radio, TV, drama, and speech was produced exclusively by club members late in the spring.

Drama Club members participate in "In the Zone," one of the plays from "An Evening of One Acts."

Approximately 70 juniors and seniors gave up their study halls to serve as monitors on posts throughout the school. Among the duties of these students were collecting school attendance cards, distributing absence lists, checking admits, greeting guests, and above all, maintaining hall order.

Duties of hall monitors entail the collection of attendance cards and yellow stubs.

AFS Hosts First Foreign Exchange Student

AFS sponsored several fund-raising activities this year in order to bring a foreign exchange student to Guilford next year and to send one of the Guilford finalists abroad this summer. Included in the year's program were a tag day, an inter-class contribution competition, and a jail at the Band Carnival.

Guilford's first foreign exchange student, Marlena Heyns, came from the Union of South Africa and stayed in the home of Karen McLean during the school year.

Debate Explores Topic of Social Security

Steve Cox, a member of the varsity debate team, argues the pros of social security benefits at a practice debate.

"Resolved: that social security benefits should be extended to cover complete medical care." This is the current topic of debate for many high school and college teams, including Guilford. The school team is divided into varsity, subvarsity, and novice levels. The varsity team had two overnight debates, one at Chicago's Navy Pier and another at Augustana College. They also debated at the Big "8" Tournament, the state sectional, and the Sterling tournament.

Library Staff Services Prove Indispensable

Library assistants Karen Seaberg and Jean Appel check out library references.

Acting as a service organization, the Library staff is responsible for much of the book work and filing in Guilford's library. Giving up one of their daily study halls, the library assistants processed blue admits, checked out books, and kept general order in the library.

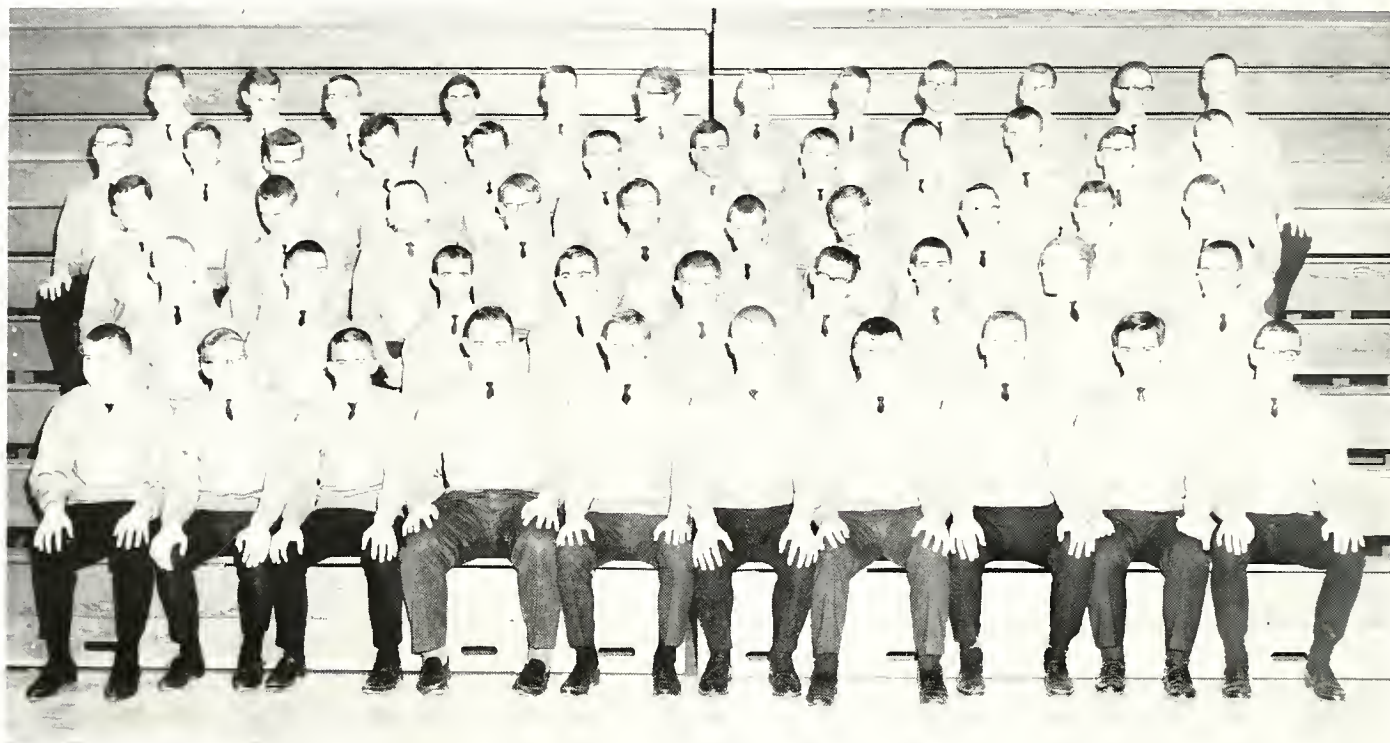

Members of the staff saw the volume of books grow from 5,000 to 10,000 during the course of the second year. Book circulation amounted to over 300 daily.

To promote the Christmas spirit council members trim a tree in the main entrance.

The aim of Student Council is to provide an active leadership in promoting school activities. In addition, it makes the student body aware of democratic principles. Finally, the student council offers several student services. In keeping with this three-fold purpose, the council conducts all elections, promotes school spirit, publishes the North Star, provides music in the cafeteria, and sponsors buses to athletic events.

Stage Production Captivates ABL Members

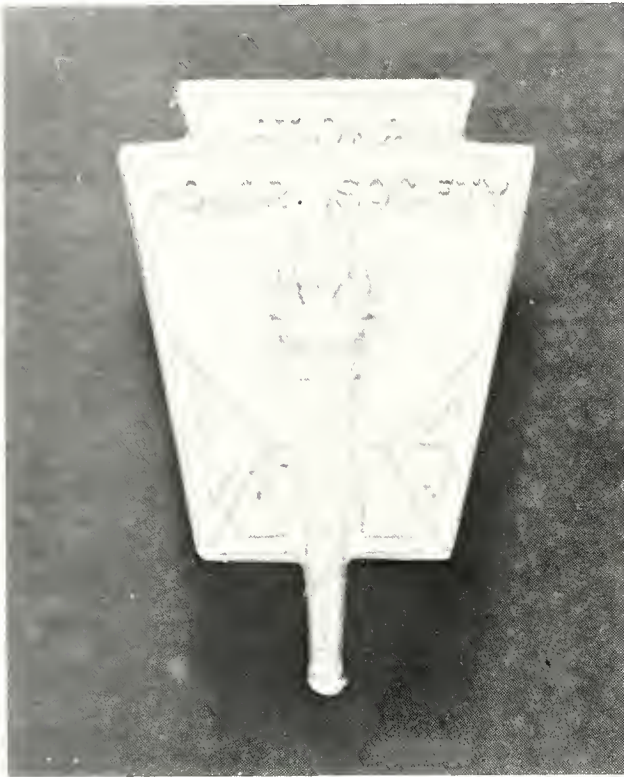

Charter members Ingrid Fulling and Vickie Snoy present carnations at initiation of new members.

ABL sets as its goals "to further appreciation of literary work and oral arts, to develop further the standards of intellectual and social culture, and to promote a feeling of fellowship among its members. "In addition to the eleven Charter members of the literary group, sixteen seniors and fourteen juniors were initiated into the society at the November meeting.

In the spring, the club held its traditional May Day flower sale. Funds from the previous year's sale financed a trip to Camelot in January.

Flaming Torch Symbolizes Striving of NHS

The NHS pin symbolizes the principles stressed by the club - character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

A flaming torch symbolizing the searching light of truth was a meaningful object during last spring's induction of 18 juniors into Guilford's chapter of the National Honor Society. Selected from the upper third of the junior class by a student-faculty vote on the basis of academic records, service and leadership, character, and extra-curricular activities, these students were welcomed into the honorary organization by the society presidents from other Rockford high schools as Guilford lacked a senior class.

Members of NHS sold school stationery and home-made baked goods to finance the purchase of honors pennants which are given to the best homeroom--academically--of each grade. A homeroom displays the pennant as long as it retains the best quarterly grade average in its class. Membership of NHS may be a maximum five per cent of the junior class and fifteen per cent of the senior class.

Science Club Participates in Area Fairs

Dave Felten, Science Club president, leads members in a discussion of science fair projects.

The chief aim of Science Club is to further interest in scientific fields by presenting a wide variety of pertinent information. A secondary goal is to promote greater awareness of and participation in the area science fairs.

Club activities embodied a field trip to the Swedish-American Hospital laboratories, a bean-counting contest to raise money in order to enter science fairs, and science projects to enter in competition.

Mrs. Kathryn Cutting and Miss Marion Peters address future teachers concerning methods and arts of teaching.

Designed to promote interest in the field of teaching and introduce new instruction techniques is Future Teachers of America. A recent project, the Teachers' Assistance Program, enabled junior and senior members of the organization to explore their chosen field via the teaching of classes and the grading of papers during their study halls.

Bake sale profits subsidized club projects which included a picnic for the Children's Convalescent Home and a trip to the Northern Illinois University campus.

Among the activities of Future Homemakers of America was the presentation of carnations to the faculty. Following was an all-day open house held in cooperation with the home economics department, which provided the teachers with tea and pastries during their free hours. Both of these activities occurred immediately before the Christmas vacation. In addition to this, the club baked cupcakes to be sold for a Band fund-raising project.

High school young people interested in nursing or health careers are brought together in Future Nurses Club. During the meetings, they share and discuss interests, explore opportunities and requirements in various medical fields, and learn about the community life in which they will soon be participating.

Various speakers in nursing and related health fields addressed the group during the year. Many of the girls did volunteer work as Tags, Candy-Strippers, or Zonteens in order to gain early nursing experience.

FNC members Jaci Clark and Brita Solem go over health pamphlets available in the nurse's office.

Pep Club Boosts School Spirit,

As one of Guilford's largest and most enthusiastic groups, the Pep Club painted many of the sports posters seen about the school throughout the year. Sponsoring voluntary pep assemblies, the club worked to create and stimulate school spirit. One of its major goals is encouraging better sportsmanship on the part of Guilford fans.

In addition to providing a large cheering section at the home games, Pep Club held a hootenany which was highlighted by the Townsfolk singers.

Jewelry featuring the school crest was sold as a fund-raising activity.

Vickie Snoy
Editor-in-Chief

To provide the student body, the faculty, and the community with both a record and panorama of the year's activities at Guilford is the goal of the Valhalla staff.

The composition of the yearbook falls into five major divisions: candid, sports, people, associations, and advertising. Each section is under the direct supervision of a department editor. The efforts of these people and their associates are coordinated by the head editors to create a book of lasting memories.

Style and Appearance of Paper

This year, with the job of organization behind them, the Voyager staff members were able to devote themselves to improving the style and appearance of the paper.

The Voyager came out weekly partly due to aid given by junior news-writers, and also as a result of increased efficiency on the part of experienced staff members.

Included in the Voyager publications were an 8-page Christmas issue, a dedication issue, a Senior issue, and special bulletins.

The business staff performs a wide variety of functions for both the Voyager and Valhalla. Tasks ranging from management of circulation to planning the "Fireball" come under the jurisdiction of this staff. Members operate the coat check and school store. Proceeds from these projects subsidize those procured from ad soliciting.

Work done by the business staff coordinates the activities of the entire Publications unit.

Varsity Squad Takes Third in Conference

Guilford gridders finished the past season with a respectable 6-3 record as compared to '62's 0-8 mark. Two conference losses, one to Rockford West and one to Freeport in the title game left the Vikings in third place in the league.

Highlights of the season came in the exciting 7-0 victory over Auburn and the 34-21 defeat of East Standouts of the season included All-State full-back Don Oft, All-Conference quarterback Bob Hughes, and All-Conference guard Roger Johnson. Many other players did fine jobs but failed to receive special recognition.

Determination burns in the eyes of Coach Swaby and Coach Smith as they anticipate the coming contest during a pre-game practice.

Crosstown Victories Highlight Grid Season

Keyed up for the East game, Guilford's Duane Cox (22) and Roger Johnson (65) lead their squad onto the field to the cheers of fans under the watchful eyes of their mascot, Honorable Eric.

Temper run high as Viking Don Oft (35) and East's Rick Streid (81) square off. Bob Hughes, the peacemaker on the ground, has a better-than ring-side seat.

Sophomore Gridders Split Season

Guilford's sophomore gridders battled their way to an even season while posting 4 wins-4 losses this season. Two of the underclassmen's victories came as a result of downing crosstown rivals Harlem and Auburn. The lone tie was produced as the Vikings and LaSalle-Peru finished in a 14-14 deadlock.

Last fall Guilford's freshmen began their first year of high school sports. For many it was their first taste of stiff interscholastic competition. Gradually, through hard practice, progress was realized.

During the course of the season, the frosh registered four wins as opposed to two losses. This was nearly a complete reversal of the previous year. Impressive wins of 31-6 and 14-0 were posted over Auburn. The two losses were at the hands of Boylan.

Harriers Compile Impressive Season Record

Throughout the course of the season, Guilford's harriers didn't compete in any strictly dual meets. Instead the schedule was composed of many large meets. In these meets, the Vikings captured a host of record places.

The Norse runners consistently defeated East, West, Harlem, and Boylan. The only city team that beat the Vikings regularly was Auburn.

Finishes of 3rd and 4th were captured in the "Big 8" and District meets respectively.

Grant Colehour won individual honors by being the only Guilford representative in the state run-off. Of 191 competing runners, the slim junior placed 42nd in the field.

Last year the varsity Viking cagers struggled through a 10-11 losing season. The 1963-1964 campaign was more rewarding and had its share of thrills. The final season mark stands at 14-9 and possession of third place in the "Big 8" Conference.

Outstanding games for the Norsemen include the victories over East, Auburn, Freeport, and LaSalle-Peru. Championship hopes were snuffed out in semi-final games of both the DeKalb Holiday and Regional Tournaments. These defeats were at the hands of Freeport and Rockford East respectively.

Guilford's first year basketball players rolled through a winning season during the '63-'64 campaign. Led by high scoring Dan Dollins, the "A" squad registered impressive wins over Auburn, Jefferson, East sophomore "B's," and Boylan. The final "A" squad finished with a 10-6 mark.

Freshman "B" squad members posted a 4-2 record in their 6 game schedule. Victories over two local grade schools, Morris Kennedy and Guilford Center, accounted for two marks in the assets column. The two losses were suffered at the hands of the Boylan Titans.

Guilford's varsity tankers finished the 1963 - 1964 season with a winning 6 - 4 mark. In the course of gaining the 6 victories they twice defeated DeKalb, cross-town rival Auburn, as well as Freeport and Janesville one time each.

Highlight of the season came as the Vikings nipped West in the city swim meet to take second place behind East.

Individual standouts were junior Norm Glomp in the sprints and junior Dave Burns in the butterfly and sprints. Sophomore ace Bob Kircher was lost at the semester when he moved to Deerfield.

Diamondmen Enter Big Eight Conference

The 1964 edition of the Guilford baseball team had just begun scheduled play when the book went to press. In their first three encounters the Vikings had battled to a 1-1 tie and a 4-4 tie with East and West respectively. The third game was a 5-2 defeat at the hands of Freeport.

Team strength should be quite high in the remaining games due to no loss of lettermen through graduation. Main cogs in the Guilford attack appear to be Rog Johnson, Gary Orsinger, Keith Fabrique, and Chuck Salberg.

Individual Standouts Lead Track Squad

Returning lettermen Don Oft, Mick Powell, and Grant Colehour are expected to carry Guilford's track hopes into this year's season. Joining them will be newcomer Bob Hughes in the quarter mile.

The squad, made up almost entirely of underclassmen, will be strong in the weights, mile, intermediate distances, and high jump. From the pre-season outlook, the team will be lacking only in depth.

Rick Pozzi gives Gregg Liebovich some advice in lining up a shot in an early practice round.

Guilford's 1964 golf team will be composed of the same boys who placed third in the district meet last year. Among the hopefuls are Rich Pozzi, Gregg Liebovich, Steve Stark, and Ron Crotzer. All Guilford home matches are played at Sandy Hollow Golf Course.

To keep putting eyes sharp during bad weather the Guilford golfers invented their own indoor version of mini-putt.

Sports Participation Encouraged by GAA

Guided by the sports heads, over 100 girls took part in the 12 activities offered by GAA. Both individual and team sports were a part of the year's program. New and old members were feted at an evening program at the year's end.

The general board consisted of 17 previously initiated members of GAA. Eleven of these girls acted as sports heads.

They set up the programs, kept records, and made awards in their sports.

The six other girls served as club officers and composed the executive board. All 17 girls worked together in planning events such as the after-game sock hop, the sweatshirt sales, and the year end program.

Girls participating in Leadership Club acquired skills which they used in refereeing many GAA sports.

Girls elected to GAA's "Top Ten" gained the honor through participation in GAA sports. Points are awarded each time a girl takes part in a club sport. Those with the highest point accumulations over a period of 4 years (grades 9-12) are admitted to the group. Point totals of Guilford's first "Top Ten" ranged from 80 to 370.

Lacking a pool but abounding in initiative, 30 girls founded Guilford's first swim club. As membership in the organization was limited, the girls were selected from a field of 45 on the basis of the form and power of several swimming strokes.

The group met every Tuesday evening throughout the year from 7 to 9 in the Roosevelt Junior High School pool.

A great deal of time and effort were spent in preparing for the swim show which was held on May 19. The review, which included five acts, used newspapers as the theme.

School Board Adjust to Growth and Change

The ability to function efficiently in the face of growth and change is a must for any educational system. This ability is personified by the Rockford Board of Education, which has long maintained the renowned high standards of the Rockford schools.

Since its conception in 1865, the school board has endeavored to coordinate and improve the curriculum in the schools by meetings with both school officials and civic-minded adults.

With the approval of the Board, new equipment was allotted to Guilford during its second year of operation. Physics equipment for the first senior class, files, desks, and shelves for the additional faculty members, and secretarial chairs for the stenography classes were among the items purchased.

Because Guilford has benefited from the efforts of the Board of Education during the past year, it looks to the Board in hopes of expansion in the future.

Dr. John C. Swanson

Responsive Pupil is Administration Goal

It was first a taut string outlining the form above the barren ground. It soon became walls of brick and glass based on firm footings of concrete. Then came the desks, the chairs, the shelving and the blackboards. Yet there still seemed to be no purpose for its existence.

Not until the rooms and corridors came alive with the interchange of teacher and pupil did the building become more than a lifeless structure. Its purpose now was clear—to challenge alert minds, to build healthy bodies, to encourage strong character, and to create solid foundations for lives of service and satisfaction.

This year we see our first graduates venture from these halls into the maze of roads leading into an unknown future. The value of their experience here will be measured by their response to the challenge of a higher education, the opportunities in the world of work, and the responsibilities of citizenship and parenthood.

What these graduates have gained here will be as useless as this building without its students unless they have committed their talents to something greater than their own pleasure and achievement. Our world stands in desperate need of trained minds, healthy bodies, and strong characters which have been dedicated to the service of mankind.

John C. Swanson

Office Staff Handles Books, Calls, Visitors

Mrs. Dorothy Oman, registrar and office manager, and Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, bookkeeper, pause in the vault during their day's activities.

Guilford's office staff creates a smooth functioning background for the activities of the school. This supporting staff is concerned with handling calls and visitors to the school, recording school business from club budgets to class rank, and preparing the daily announcements.

Although little recognized by the student body, these women work each day throughout the entire year to provide the students, faculty, and administration with an up-to-date record of their activities.

Greeting students and visitors in the offices are Mrs. Elaine Carlson, Mrs. Alyce Roby, and Mrs. Marge Hوجلund.

Distributing homeroom announcements to the teachers' boxes are Miss Marge Guarino and Mrs. Jan Thomas.

PRINTING

NORMAN KING COMPANY
 810 W. HIGGINS ROAD - PARK RIDGE, ILLINOIS

Tom,
Well, this year
sure has gone fast.
I wish sure was fun wasn't it? Almost as fun as 8th grade with Felice.
Be good and have lots of fun this summer.
Love ya,
family

Tom
Sure has been fun this year
de Miss Mitten
Picken you guys
too, much love
Good luck

Phil

To a real nice
guy best wishes
Phil Lane

Nawdy,
See you next year as a freshy.
Jordan Sunderland

Tom -
It was fun being in your English class this year. I hope next year will get in some more. Have fun this summer but be good!

Nancy

5-15-05 I wrote this on the bus!

Tom,
I've been nice to be with you this year, - especially during tests!
You're helpful!
I'll see you in June. Love,
Nancy

Tom -
We had a blast
in Chem! Homeroom. Remember how Peacock always used to come in almost late! Have fun this summer!
I will see you in June. Love you,
Nancy

Tom,

It was nice having you in 4 of my classes. Good luck in tennis next year. We can play a lot during the summer.
Good luck in W.H.S.

Your friendly,

Don
Can
Camp

Tom,
Aren't you glad you didn't take
French 3 & 4 this year? We sure didn't learn much at march east year
did we? Holly
Larson

Tom,
French class was sure different. Maybe second year French will be better. Have fun this summer.
See you next year.
See you.
See you.

Tom

Good luck next year. It's been a lot of fun during lunch & W.H.

Good luck in tennis & basketball next year (I hope you get 20 & 14.10
BECAUSE 14.10.14)

Hi Tom

Keen year

have a good summer

Mike Sagara
